Nano Water Ion Technology, Pure and Clean!

The nano water ion generator will generate the moisture collected in the collected, cooled and high pressurize it to the condensed water droplets to generate nano water ions.

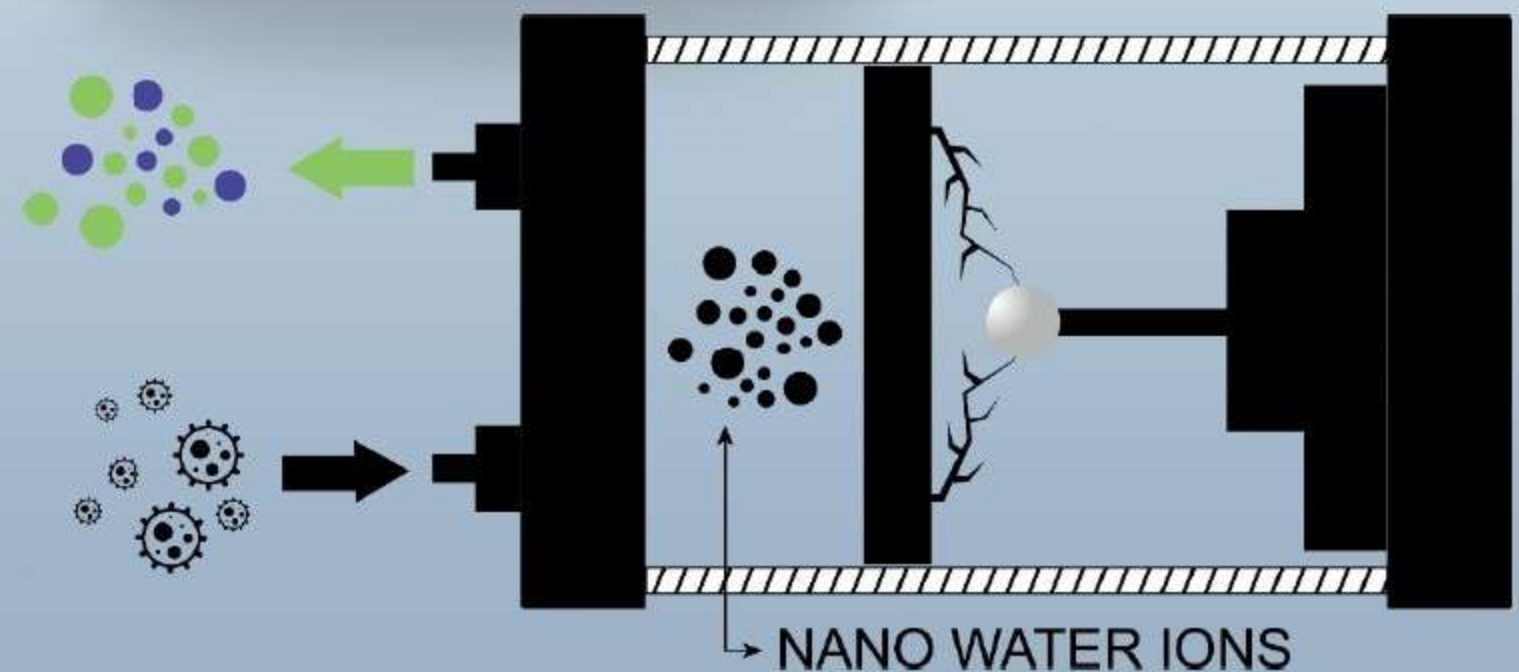

It is being widely used in Airport and Train Station for public anti-virus solution.

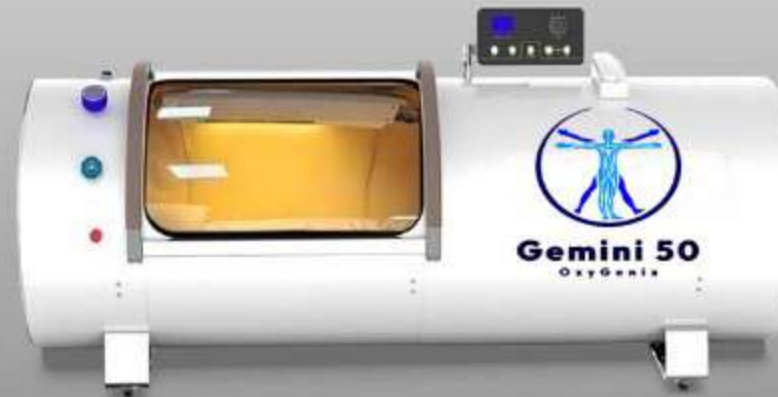

Nano water ions wrapped by moisture can easily adhere to the surface of various bacteria. Then it allows the large amount of hydrogen oxygen free radicals contained in itself to fully contact with the bacteria, and draws out the hydrogen ions from the bacteria and combines them into water. In this way, various bacteria are inactivated and the effect of germ removal is achieved. In addition to deodorization, nano water ions can also penetrate deep into the fiber and extract hydrogen ions from bacteria that form odor, thus achieving deodorization.
